

Thanks for your purchase, now we get to deliver your new things!

Here are the Fred's Beds & Furniture delivery options & terms

We can only move furniture/bedding purchased from Fred's Beds or things you are sending back (such as old mattresses or consignment furniture). We can only bring back items agreed upon – if there are additional items please call the store in advance to make sure we are able to take them. If consigning furniture please see our consignment rules & terms on the "ABOUT US" page on www.freds-beds.com.

Please have the room ready if you are getting furniture set up. For liability reasons, we will not be able to move your existing furniture or disassemble beds.

If you need furniture moved prior to our delivery, we can guide you to local movers.

If the room is not ready when we arrive we will not be able to set up your furniture and another appointment may be necessary – resulting in another delivery fee.

DELIVERY OPTIONS

(1.) one-man simple drop off

One person from Fred's Beds drops off the furniture or bedding in the garage or inside the front door. Nothing heavy or awkward, only items one person can unload safely. No assembly.

(2.) one-man drop off with customer help

For heavier or awkward items, queen or king mattresses, or deliveries that one person cannot handle alone. Someone must assist the Fred's Beds delivery person with unloading into the garage or a room in the house. No assembly included.

(3.) one-man delivery and assembly (may be with customer help)

One person from Fred's Beds delivers and assembles the furniture/bedding with the assistance (if needed) of at least one capable person from the customer's side. Work is 50/50 from customer and Fred's Beds.

(4.) two-man delivery and assembly

Generally these are done on Saturdays. 2 people from Fred's Beds deliver and assemble the entire purchase with no assistance needed from the customer's side.
